The screenshot displays a kitchen management interface. At the top left, the word "Orders" is written in a large, bold, brown font. Below it, two order cards are visible. The first card, "Order 0", has a dark red background and lists "The Big Enchilladas, Vertaco," with a timer of "-3:42:42" and a checkmark icon. The second card, "Order 1", also has a dark red background and lists "Huevos diablos, Chicken nachos, The Big Enchilladas," with a timer of "00:03:5". A red arrow points from the "Order 1" card to a browser window below. The browser window shows the URL "https://restaurant-database10.herokuapp.com/waiter/" and a notification that says "restaurant-database10.herokuapp.com says Kitchen staff need help." with an "OK" button. In the top right corner of the interface, there is a red "Help" button. At the bottom, the same two orders are listed again, each with a "..." button and the text "Order sent to kitchen." To the right of each order is a row of three green buttons: "Accept", "Delivered", and "Cancel".
